RECORD OF AMICABLE RESOLUTION FOR THE PURPOSE OF EDPB GUIDELINES 06/2022 ON THE PRACTICAL IMPLEMENTATION OF AMICABLE
SETTLEMENTS VERSION 2.0
(ADOPTED ON 12 MAY 2022)

Dated the 29th day of March 2023

Data Protection Commission
21 Fitzwilliam Square South
Dublin 2, Ireland

Background

1. On 21 October 2019, ██████████ (“the Data Subject”) lodged a complaint pursuant to Article 77 of the GDPR with the Commission Nationale de l'Informatique et des Libertés (“the Recipient SA”) concerning Google Ireland Limited (“the Respondent”).
2. In circumstances where the Data Protection Commission (“the DPC”) was deemed to be the competent authority for the purpose of Article 56(1) GDPR, the Recipient SA transferred the complaint to the DPC on 9 February 2022.

The Complaint

3. The details of the complaint were as follows:
  - a. The Data Subject contacted the Respondent on 08 May 2019 via their web-form, requesting the erasure of personal data concerning them that had been uploaded to the YouTube platform by a third party user.
  - b. The Respondent replied to the Data Subject on the same date, noting that they had contacted the original poster of the content, giving them 48 hours to take the appropriate action, or the issue would be escalated to YouTube’s review team.
  - c. On 10 May 2019, the Respondent informed the Data Subject that their complaint had been forwarded to YouTube’s review team. On 14 May 2019, the Respondent contacted the Data Subject again, and informed them that upon review of the reported content, no violations of the YouTube privacy guidelines were found, and as such, the content would not be removed from the platform.
  - d. As the Data Subject was not satisfied with the response received from the Respondent regarding the concerns raised, the Data Subject lodged a complaint with the Recipient SA.

Action taken by the DPC

4. The DPC, pursuant to Section 109(4) of the Data Protection Act, 2018 (“the 2018 Act”), is required, as a preliminary matter, to assess the likelihood of the parties to the complaint reaching, within a reasonable time, an amicable resolution of the subject-matter of the complaint. Where the DPC considers that there is a reasonable likelihood of such an amicable resolution being concluded between the parties, it is empowered, by Section 109(2) of the 2018 Act, to take such steps as it considers appropriate to arrange or facilitate such an amicable resolution.
5. Following a preliminary examination of the material referred to it by the Recipient SA, the DPC considered that there was a reasonable likelihood of the parties concerned reaching, within a reasonable time, an amicable resolution of the subject matter of the complaint. The DPC’s experience is that complaints of this nature are particularly suitable for amicable resolution in circumstances where there is an obvious solution to the dispute, if the respondent is willing to engage in the process. In this regard, the DPC had regard to:

- a. The relationship between the Data Subject and Respondent (being, in this case, an individual consumer and a service provider); and
  - b. The nature of the complaint (in this case, an unsuccessful attempt by the Data Subject to exercise their data subject rights).
6. While not relevant to the assessment that the DPC is required to carry out pursuant to Section 109(4) of the 2018 Act, the DPC also had regard to EDPB Guidelines 06/2022 on the practical implementation of amicable settlements Version 2.0, adopted on 12 May 2022 (“Document 06/2022”), and considered that:
- a. the possible conclusion of the complaint by way of amicable resolution would not hamper the ability of the supervisory authorities to maintain the high level of protection that the GDPR seeks to create; and that
  - b. such a conclusion, in this case, would likely carry advantages for the Data Subject, whose rights under the GDPR would be vindicated swiftly, as well as for the controller, who would be provided the opportunity to bring its behaviour into compliance with the GDPR.

Amicable Resolution

7. The DPC engaged with both the Data Subject (via the Recipient SA) and Respondent in relation to the subject matter of the complaint. The DPC first contacted the Respondent on 6 May 2022. Further to that engagement, the Respondent advised that they had further reviewed the complaint and following this review, remained of the view that no grounds for the removal of the content were met under Article 17 of the GDPR. The Respondent provided further information in respect of their stance that the content did not meet any grounds for removal from their platform. In this regard, the Respondent noted that the content in question depicted the Data Subject participating in a public sporting event and that the Data Subject remains involved in the kickboxing industry through their work as a coach. As such, the content was deemed to be of public interest.
8. The DPC’s letter outlining the information provided by the Respondent as part of the amicable resolution process issued to the Data Subject on 26 August 2022 via the Recipient SA. In its correspondence to the Data Subject, the DPC requested that the Data Subject notify it, within a specified timeframe, if they were not satisfied with the information provided by the Respondent, so that the DPC could take further action. On 24 November 2022, the Recipient SA confirmed that no response had been received from the Data Subject.
9. On 30 November 2022, and in light of the foregoing, the DPC wrote to the Recipient SA noting that the DPC considered the complaint to have been amicably resolved and withdrawn in accordance with section 109(3) of the Act and that it would conclude the case and inform the Respondent.

10. In circumstances where the subject matter of the complaint has been amicably resolved, in full, the complaint, by virtue of Section 109(3) of the 2018 Act, is deemed to have been withdrawn by the Data Subject.

Confirmation of Outcome

11. For the purpose of Document 06/2022, the DPC confirms that:

- a. The complaint, in its entirety, has been amicably resolved between the parties concerned;
- b. The agreed resolution is such that the object of the complaint no longer exists; and
- c. Having consulted with the supervisory authorities concerned on the information set out above, as required by Document 06/2022 the DPC has now closed off its file in this matter.

12. If dissatisfied with the outcome recorded herein, the parties have the right to an effective remedy by way of an application for judicial review, by the Irish High Court, of the process applied by the DPC in the context of the within complaint.
