

Dear European Data Committee,

I hereby participate in the public consultation on the Guidelines 02-2025. I consider the current draft to be highly problematic, especially with regard to the unrealistic application of the GDPR to public blockchains such as Bitcoin. The attempt to ignore technical immutability leads to the de facto illegalization of decentralized networks and contradicts the fundamental principle of technological neutrality.

R. Stevens