Decision under the General Data Protection Regulation

Decision of the Authority for Privacy Protection

IMY adopts the Dutch Data Protection Authority's decision in Appendix 1 pursuant to Article 60(8) of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and closes the case.

Presentation of the case

On 11 September 2022 the complainant filed his complaint with the Swedish Authority for Privacy Protection (IMY). On 10 November 2022 IMY sent the complaint to the Dutch Data Protection Authority as the case concerns cross-border processing and Booking.com B.V (Booking) has its main establishment in the Netherlands. The Dutch Data Protection Authority has investigated the matter and issued a decision pursuant to Article 60(3) GDPR. None of the supervisory authorities concerned has expressed an objection to the draft decision pursuant to Article 60 (4) GDPR.

Statement of reasons for the decision

The Dutch Data Protection Authority has stated in its draft decision that the investigation did not disclose any violation of GDPR in this case and that the complaint has been investigated to the extent appropriate. In light thereof and that none of the supervisory authorities concerned have expressed an objection to the draft decision IMY adopts the decision pursuant to Article 60(8) GDPR.

The case is therefore closed.

How to appeal

If you want to appeal the decision, you should write to the Authority for Privacy Protection. Indicate in the letter which decision you appeal and the change you request. The appeal must have been received by the Authority for Privacy Protection no later than three weeks from the day you received the decision. If the appeal has been received at the right time, the Authority for Privacy Protection will forward it to the Administrative Court in Stockholm for review.

You can e-mail the appeal to the Authority for Privacy Protection if it does not contain any privacy-sensitive personal data or information that may be covered by confidentiality. The authority's contact information is shown in the first page of the decision
