RECORD OF AMICABLE RESOLUTION FOR THE PURPOSE OF EDPB GUIDELINES 06/2022 ON THE PRACTICAL IMPLEMENTATION OF AMICABLE
SETTLEMENTS VERSION 2.0
(ADOPTED ON 12 MAY 2022)

Dated the 11th day of April 2025

Data Protection Commission
21 Fitzwilliam Square South
Dublin 2, Ireland

Background

1. On 16 April 2024, [REDACTED] (“the Data Subject”) lodged a complaint pursuant to Article 77 of the GDPR with the Data Protection Commission (“the DPC”) concerning Meta Platforms Ireland Limited (“the Respondent”).
2. The DPC was deemed to be the competent authority for the purpose of Article 56(1) of the GDPR.

The Complaint

3. The details of the complaint were as follows:
 - a. The Data Subject contacted the Respondent on 8 May 2024 to request the erasure of their Facebook account and all associated personal data, pursuant to Article 17 GDPR. The Data Subject noted that they no longer had access to the account and the email address used to create it, and they agreed to provide a copy of their Identity Document to the Respondent, should it be required, in order to verify the ownership of the account in question.
 - b. On the same day, the Respondent requested some further information from the Data Subject which the Data Subject complied with. However, based on the information provided by the Data Subject, the Respondent was unable to verify them as the rightful owner of the account.
 - c. As the Data Subject was not satisfied with the response received from the Respondent, they lodged a complaint with the DPC.

Action taken by the DPC

4. The DPC, pursuant to Section 109(4) of the Data Protection Act, 2018 (“the 2018 Act”), is required, as a preliminary matter, to assess the likelihood of the parties to the complaint reaching, within a reasonable time, an amicable resolution of the subject-matter of the complaint. Where the DPC considers that there is a reasonable likelihood of such an amicable resolution being concluded between the parties, it is empowered, by Section 109(2) of the 2018 Act, to take such steps as it considers appropriate to arrange or facilitate such an amicable resolution.
5. Following a preliminary examination of the material referred to it by the Recipient SA, the DPC considered that there was a reasonable likelihood of the parties concerned reaching, within a reasonable time, an amicable resolution of the subject matter of the complaint. The DPC’s experience is that complaints of this nature are particularly suitable for amicable resolution in circumstances where there is an obvious solution to the dispute, if the respondent is willing to engage in the process. In this regard, the DPC had regard to:

- a. The relationship between the Data Subject and Respondent (being, in this case, an individual consumer and a service provider); and
 - b. The nature of the complaint (in this case, an unsuccessful attempt by the Data Subject to exercise their data subject rights).
- 6. While not relevant to the assessment that the DPC is required to carry out pursuant to Section 109(4) of the 2018 Act, the DPC also had regard to EDPB Guidelines 06/2022 on the practical implementation of amicable settlements Version 2.0, adopted on 12 May 2022 ("Document 06/2022"), and considered that:
 - a. the possible conclusion of the complaint by way of amicable resolution would not hamper the ability of the supervisory authorities to maintain the high level of protection that the GDPR seeks to create; and that
 - b. such a conclusion, in this case, would likely carry advantages for the Data Subject, whose rights under the GDPR would be vindicated swiftly, as well as for the controller, who would be provided the opportunity to bring its behaviour into compliance with the GDPR.

Amicable Resolution

- 7. The DPC engaged with both the Data Subject and Respondent in relation to the subject matter of the complaint. The DPC commenced the complaint with the Respondent on the 14 November 2024. Further to that engagement, the Respondent requested a new email address from the Data Subject, which had not been used previously in relation to the Facebook account in question.
- 8. After receiving this information, the Respondent assisted the Data Subject with regaining access to their account, so they could schedule it for permanent deletion. In this regard, the Respondent confirmed to the DPC that on 4 December 2024, the Data Subject had regained access to their account and scheduled it for permanent deletion.
- 9. On 5 December 2024, the DPC wrote to the Data Subject, seeking their views on the action taken by the Respondent. In this correspondence, the DPC requested a reply, within a specified timeframe.
- 10. In their response to the DPC on 7 December 2024, the Data Subject confirmed that the matter has been resolved to their satisfaction. The Data Subject noted that they appreciated the assistance of the DPC in facilitating this process, and ensuring that their concerns were addressed appropriately.
- 11. In circumstances where the subject matter of the complaint has been amicably resolved, in full, the complaint, by virtue of Section 109(3) of the 2018 Act, is deemed to have been withdrawn by the Data Subject.

Confirmation of Outcome

12. For the purpose of Document 06/2022, the DPC confirms that:

- a. The complaint, in its entirety, has been amicably resolved between the parties concerned;
- b. The agreed resolution is such that the object of the complaint no longer exists; and
- c. Having consulted with the supervisory authorities concerned on the information set out above, as required by Document 06/2022 the DPC has now closed off its file in this matter.

13. If dissatisfied with the outcome recorded herein, the parties have the right to an effective remedy by way of an application for judicial review, by the Irish High Court, of the process applied by the DPC in the context of the within complaint.
