RECORD OF AMICABLE RESOLUTION FOR THE PURPOSE OF EDPB GUIDELINES 06/2022 ON THE PRACTICAL IMPLEMENTATION OF AMICABLE
SETTLEMENTS VERSION 2.0
(ADOPTED ON 12 MAY 2022)

Dated the 22nd day of August 2025

Data Protection Commission
6 Pembroke Row
Dublin 2, Ireland

Background

1. On 21 February 2024, [REDACTED] (“the Data Subject”) lodged a complaint pursuant to Article 77 of the GDPR with the Data Protection Commission (“the DPC”) concerning Meta Platforms Ireland Limited (“the Respondent”).
2. The DPC was deemed to be the competent authority for the purpose of Article 56(1) of the GDPR.

The Complaint

3. The details of the complaint were as follows:
 - a. The Data Subject first contacted the DPC, on 21 February 2024, raising concerns in relation to their old Facebook posts in their Activity Log which they wished to delete, as they were not able to do so using the tools provided by the Respondent. The complaint appeared to be a customer service issue and there was no evidence of the Data Subject looking to exercise their rights under the GDPR legislation. The DPC advised the Data Subject how to exercise their right for erasure and proceed with the complaint if they were not satisfied with the Respondents response.
 - b. On 19 March 2024, the Data Subject contacted the Respondent, and made a request under Article 17 of the GDPR for the deletion of their old posts in their Activity Log.
 - c. The Respondent assisted the Data Subject with their erasure request between March and August 2024, and it appeared that the Data Subject was able to use the tools provided by the Respondent to bulk delete several of their posts from their Activity Log, however, they were not successful in deleting all of them.
 - d. As the Data Subject was not satisfied with the response received from the Respondent, they wished to continue to pursue their complaint with the DPC, which was originally lodged on 21 February 2024.

Action taken by the DPC

4. The DPC, pursuant to Section 109(4) of the Data Protection Act, 2018 (“the 2018 Act”), is required, as a preliminary matter, to assess the likelihood of the parties to the complaint reaching, within a reasonable time, an amicable resolution of the subject-matter of the complaint. Where the DPC considers that there is a reasonable likelihood of such an amicable resolution being concluded between the parties, it is empowered, by Section 109(2) of the 2018 Act, to take such steps as it considers appropriate to arrange or facilitate such an amicable resolution.
5. Following a preliminary examination of the material referred to it by the Recipient SA, the DPC considered that there was a reasonable likelihood of the parties concerned reaching, within a reasonable time, an amicable resolution of the subject matter of the complaint. The DPC’s experience is that complaints of this nature are particularly suitable for amicable resolution in circumstances where there is an obvious solution to the dispute, if the respondent is willing to engage in the process. In this regard, the DPC had regard to:

- a. The relationship between the Data Subject and Respondent (being, in this case, an individual consumer and a service provider); and
 - b. The nature of the complaint (in this case, an unsuccessful attempt by the Data Subject to exercise his/her data subject rights).
6. While not relevant to the assessment that the DPC is required to carry out pursuant to Section 109(4) of the 2018 Act, the DPC also had regard to EDPB Guidelines 06/2022 on the practical implementation of amicable settlements Version 2.0, adopted on 12 May 2022 (“Document 06/2022”), and considered that:
- a. the possible conclusion of the complaint by way of amicable resolution would not hamper the ability of the supervisory authorities to maintain the high level of protection that the GDPR seeks to create; and that
 - b. such a conclusion, in this case, would likely carry advantages for the Data Subject, whose rights under the GDPR would be vindicated swiftly, as well as for the controller, who would be provided the opportunity to bring its behaviour into compliance with the GDPR.

Amicable Resolution

7. The DPC engaged with both the Data Subject and Respondent in relation to the subject matter of the complaint. Further to that engagement, it was established that there appeared to be a technical issue on the Activity Log function, and the Respondent would continue investigating the problem further. Furthermore, the Respondent provided some information to the Data Subject, via the DPC, as to how to delete their old posts through their “feed” or “timeline” instead of through their Activity Log, facilitating the removal of the remaining content.
8. On 18 December 2024, the DPC wrote to the Data Subject, with the information provided by the Respondent. In the circumstances, the DPC requested that the Data Subject notify it, within a specified timeframe, if they were not satisfied with the information provided by the Respondent so that the DPC could take further action.
9. The DPC did not receive any further communication from the Data Subject and, accordingly, the complaint has been deemed to have been amicably resolved.
10. In circumstances where the subject matter of the complaint has been amicably resolved, in full, the complaint, by virtue of Section 109(3) of the 2018 Act, is deemed to have been withdrawn by the Data Subject.

Confirmation of Outcome

11. For the purpose of Document 06/2022, the DPC confirms that:

- a. The complaint, in its entirety, has been amicably resolved between the parties concerned;
- b. The agreed resolution is such that the object of the complaint no longer exists; and
- c. Having consulted with the supervisory authorities concerned on the information set out above, as required by Document 06/2022 the DPC has now closed off its file in this matter.

12. If dissatisfied with the outcome recorded herein, the parties have the right to an effective remedy by way of an application for judicial review, by the Irish High Court, of the process applied by the DPC in the context of the within complaint.
